The Lincoln Heritage Trail

In December, 1962 at the Midwest Governors' Conference in Chicago, Governor Otto Kerner began the negotiations which culminated in the Lincoln Heritage Trail. John G. Bennett of the American Petroleum Institute in New York City worked with Governor Matthew E. Welsh of Indiana, Governor Bert T. Combs of Kentucky and Governor Kerner in promoting and developing this highway trail to the major Abraham Lincoln sites in the three states.

On January 18, 1963 representatives of the three states met in Governor Kerner's office to mark the basic trail. The American Petroleum Institute which had had experience in developing the New England Heritage Trail and the Great Western Trail suggested that the tri-state Lincoln route be circular. The main trail in Illinois was drawn at this meeting and joined the Indiana trail at Vincennes and New Harmony. The new trail followed the earlier Lincoln National Memorial Highway from Vincennes to Springfield with only minor deviations to assure a circular route.

The preliminary work on the Lincoln National Memorial Highway began over fifty years ago. The first official act by the state of Illinois to locate the exact route traveled by Abraham Lincoln and his family in moving from Indiana to Illinois in 1830 was a recommendation of Governor Charles S. Deneen in his message to the General Assembly in 1911. The Governor's recommendation resulted in a joint resolution of the 47th General Assembly, directing the Board of Trustees of the Illinois State Historical Library to "make the necessary investigations." An appropriation of $1,000 was made for that purpose. The Board of Trustees appointed Professor Evarts B. Green of the University of Illinois as a committee of one to take charge of the investigation; Professor Green secured the services of Charles M. Thompson of the University of Illinois to be responsible for the necessary research. Mr. Thompson's preliminary report was printed by the Board of Trustees in 1913 and titled The Lincoln Way: Report of the Board of Trustees of the Illinois State Historical Library of the Investigations Made by Mr. C. M. Thompson, in an Attempt to Locate the "Lincoln Way".

The final document, Report of the Board of Trustees of the Illinois State Historical Library to the Forty-ninth General Assembly of the State of Illinois on the Investigation of the Lincoln Way, was made in 1915.

With the election of Governor Edward F. Dunne to office, the investigation was dropped. About three years later, groups of interested citizens banded together and formed The Lincoln National Memorial Highway Association. Not long after this another organization was formed at Greenup known as the Abraham Lincoln Memorial Highway Association, Inc. In conflict with the first group, this organization published a 57-page report titled Historic Proofs and Data in Support of The Lincoln Way, Being the Route Traveled by the Thomas Lincoln Family in Coming from Indiana to Illinois in the Year 1830, for Submission to the Governor of the State of Illinois and the Department of Public Works and Buildings of the State of Illinois.

At a meeting in Springfield, April 24, 1929, with the help of a number of senators and representatives, this group was able to have a House joint resolution amended to make the matter of locating and marking the highway the responsibility of the State Highway Division. This resolution (House Joint Resolution 32) was passed by the 56th General Assembly.

This Abraham Lincoln Memorial Highway Association made recommendations on the location of the route to the Governor and the Department of Public Works and Buildings on August 20, 1929.

The Highway Division committee (made up of the assistant chief highway engineer, the engineer of construction, and the road engineer) returned, however, to the original Thompson report and--considering the suggested routing of the Abraham Lincoln Memorial Highway Association, Inc.--arrived at what they hoped was a definitive route. This proposed route was not satisfactory to all concerned parties, and complaints were filed with the Highway Division. As a result of these complaints, Governor Louis L. Emmerson, in May, 1930, appointed a commission to establish for once and all, the final route. Members of this commission (called the Hay Commission) were Logan Hay, Otto L. Schmidt, Oliver R. Barrett, Henry Horner, and Paul M. Angle. The Hay Commission spent nine months on the project. During this time much supposed evidence was submitted by various individuals and organizations. On September 18, 1930, a public hearing was held in Springfield, at which time all interested parties were heard. The Hay Commission made its report on May 21, 1931. Governor Emmerson, on August 11, 1932, approved the report and ordered the Director of the Department of Public Works and Buildings, H. H. Cleveland, to have the route marked with appropriate markers.

In marking the new Lincoln Heritage Trail it was not through appropriate to change the results and work of s.

many people and organizations over such a long period of time. It was simply decided to accept the agreed-upon route which was approved by Governor Emmerson in 1932.

The route of the Lincoln Heritage Trail from Springfield to New Harmony, Indiana was drawn to complete the circle over the better highways.

Additional tri-state meetings of the Governors and selected representatives from the states were held in the succeeding months but the basic route in Illinois was not altered.

→ The American Petroleum Institute gave each state the option of including one or two side trails to other scenic, historic and recreational sites. Governor Kerner named State Historian Clyde C. Walton as chairman of a state committee on the Lincoln Heritage Trail and a meeting was held in Springfield on February 27th with fifty individuals from throughout Illinois. They agreed unanimously, once a misunderstanding on the correct routing of the Lincoln National Memorial Highway was clarified, that the main trail was satisfactory. The meeting was then broken down into three groups representing the northern, central and southern sections of the state and three proposed side trails were drawn.

These additional trails were presented at a meeting in New York City on March 1st. However, the excessive mileage led the American Petroleum Institute to veto the northern branch and ask that the other two be trimmed. After making the necessary changes the basic and side trails in Illinois were included in the Lincoln Heritage Trail brochure which is being distributed nationally.

Thus the main trail was decided upon at the first meeting of the three states and the basic routes of the two side trails were set by the state committee at their Springfield meeting.

Illinois has had a peculiar problem in contrast to the other two states. All of Illinois is appropriately known as the "Land of Lincoln" and numerous villages, towns and cities have Lincoln associations. Therefore it has been and will be impossible to include every Lincoln site on the Lincoln Heritage Trail.

This tri-state project already covers about a thousand miles on the main route alone. While there is no intention of destroying local initiative in attracting tourists to additional points of interest, the basic route marking must remain simple and clear. We have already trimmed the length of the trail to comply with the limitations placed on each of the states. We should keep faith with the other two states and the developers of the trail by restricting the official marking of the trail in Illinois to the present mileage. Local communities may wish to publicize in various ways and print maps of other sites in their vicinity. At the present time there are no plans for additions to the marking and publicity of the basic main and side trails. Experience may show, however, that limited changes should be made. Therefore, the Illinois State Historical Library will accept proposals for future consideration.

AMENDMENTS TO LINCOLN HERITAGE TRAIL FOUNDATION ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION
dated January 16, 1964:

In order to qualify for tax deductibility status under the Internal Revenue Code, the Foundation must meet three requirements which are detailed below:

- 1) The purpose of the Foundation must meet the requirements for the IRS code for tax deductibility
- 2) Money coming into the Foundation cannot be used for anyone's personal benefit
- 3) In the event that the Foundation is dissolved, its assets must be turned over to an organization also qualified for tax deductibility and not for any person's personal gain

The exact wording of Section V of the Articles of Incorporation follows:

"5. The purpose or purposes for which the corporation is organized are: The purposes and responsibilities of the Lincoln Heritage Trail Foundation, Inc. would be to advise and assist the States of Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky in matters pertaining to special projects for promoting travel along the Lincoln Heritage Trail.

- (1) To recommend and implement such special projects which it considers necessary and practical for expanding travel;
- (2) To work with industry and civic organizations in obtaining advertising and promotional support;
- (3) To encourage the communications media to provide additional editorial support for travel projects within the three-state area."

The exact wording of the proposed Amendment to Article V of the Articles of Incorporation is:

"5. The Corporation is organized exclusively for educational purposes, within the meaning of Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (or the corresponding provision of any future United States Internal Revenue Law), including the origination and dissemination of educational and historical information about the Lincoln Heritage Trail, a 2200 mile marked route through the states of Kentucky, Indiana, and Illinois which traces the footsteps of Abraham Lincoln from his birth in Kentucky, through his boyhood in Indiana, to Illinois, where he grew to manhood and is now buried, and to encourage visits to and the preservation of the historic sites along the Trail."

Amendments to Articles of Incorporation

To be added to the Articles of Incorporation:

"6. No part of the net earnings of the Corporation shall inure to the benefit of, or be distributable to, its members, directors, officers or other private persons, except that the Corporation shall be authorized and empowered to pay reasonable compensation for services rendered and to make payments and distributions in furtherance of the purposes set forth in Article 5 hereof. No substantial part of the activities of the Corporation shall be the carrying on of propaganda, or otherwise attempting to influence legislation, and the Corporation shall not participate in, or intervene in (including the publishing or distribution of statements) any political campaign on behalf of any candidate for public office. Notwithstanding any other provision of these Articles, the Corporation shall not carry on any other activities not permitted to be carried on (a) by a corporation exempt from Federal income tax under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (or the corresponding provision of any future United States Internal Revenue Law) or (b) by a corporation, contributions to which are deductible under Section 170 (c)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (or the corresponding provision of any future United States Internal Revenue Law)."

"7. Upon dissolution of the Corporation, the Board of Directors shall, after paying or making provision for the payment of all of the liabilities of the Corporation, dispose of all of the assets of the Corporation in such manner, or to such organization or organizations organized and operated exclusively for charitable, educational, religious or scientific purposes as shall at the time qualify as an exempt organization or organizations under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (or the corresponding provision of any future United States Internal Revenue Law), as the Board of Directors shall determine. Any such assets not so disposed of shall be disposed of by the circuit court of the county in which the principal office or the registered office of the Corporation is then located, or by the Circuit Court of Sangamon County, Illinois, exclusively for such purposes or to such organization or organizations operated exclusively for such purposes."

Housekeeping Amendments to the By-Laws:

Present wording of Article V enacted January 26, 1968, is:

"1. The fiscal year of the Corporation shall be January 1 through December 31 of each year."

Amendments to Articles of Incorporation

The proposed Amendment to Article V is:

"1. The fiscal year of the Corporation shall be July 1 through June 30 of each year."

Present wording of Section 1., Article IV amended October 7, 1970, is:

"1. The officers of this corporation shall be a president, vice-president, treasurer, secretary and a Board of Directors of not less than seven (7) nor more than thirty-one (31) in number, and other officers and agents as the Board of Directors may in their discretion appoint.

"There shall always be a balanced Board of Directors consisting of the same number of directors from each of the three states of Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky, plus one additional director to be named by the American Petroleum Institute as its official representative. Anytime when this board becomes unbalanced for any cause, the Board of Directors shall, at its earliest convenience, convene to elect replacements and make the necessary changes to re-establish state balance on the Board. The Directors shall serve for a period of two years: however, one half of the whole number of Directors shall leave office at each annual meeting and be replaced with new Directors who shall serve for a period of two years. At the time of the adoption of this amendment, one half the total of number of Directors shall be elected for the term of one year and the other half shall be elected for the term of two years. At each annual election successors to Directors whose term shall expire that year shall be elected to hold office for a term of two years so that the term of office of half the Directors shall expire each year. Officers shall be elected annually by the Board of Directors after their election by the members. Nominations shall be made by a nominating committee of not less than three persons appointed by the President. For a nomination from the floor to be valid a notice signed by not less than seven (7) members giving the names of such nominees must be first filed with the Secretary no later than ten (10) days prior to the date of the annual meeting. Officers shall be residents of the state of Illinois, Indiana or Kentucky. So far as permitted by law, any two or more offices may be filled by the same person. Each officer shall hold office until the next annual meeting and until his successor is chosen and qualified. Each officer shall have, subject to these By-Laws in addition to the duties and powers herein set forth, such duties and powers as are commonly incident to his office and such duties and powers as the Board of Directors shall from time to time designate."

The proposed Amendment to Section 1., Article IV would change the first ten lines to read:

"1. The officers of this corporation shall be a president, vice-president, treasurer, secretary and a Board of Directors of not less than seven (7) nor more than thirty (30) in number, and other officers and agents as the Board of Directors may in their discretion appoint.

There shall always be a balanced Board of Directors consisting of the same number of directors from each of the three states of Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky. Anytime when this Board becomes unbalanced for..."

AMERICAN MARCHING BAND FOUNDATION
Board of Directors Meeting
February 10, 1975

The Board of Directors meeting was called to order by President Joseph C. Lackey, Sr. at 9:00 p.m., Monday, February 10, 1975, at the Holiday Inn East, Springfield, Illinois. Board members present were:

Illinois

Joseph Kemp

Penny Noble - Staff

The minutes of the October 25, 1974, meeting were approved as distributed, upon a motion by Lancy Buckmaster and a second by Russell Anderson.

The Treasurer's report was given by Harry Truitt. There was a discussion of how much money was spent during the month of January, 1975. Linda Jester stated that Indiana's 1975 investment will not be paid until July, 1975. Bob Whitaker advised that Kentucky's $10,000 will be processed in two or three weeks. Michael Linderman advised that $5,000 of Illinois' investment is being processed and the remaining $5,000 will be processed after July 1. It was reported that Louisville, Kentucky's check had been approved and should be in the mail.

Richard Newman stated that in the Treasurer's report under December disbursements, the $2,000 internal transfer from the film fund was reimbursed in January to the film fund. The President asked for a motion, that the Treasurer's report be approved as read. Motion made by Russell Anderson, seconded by Bert Ballard, passed unanimously.

S. A. Miller gave the 1974 Membership Report which was broken down to show the members and contributors from each state. It was noted that the $239 in memberships listed under other states came from Rhode Island, Virginia, Georgia and $125 of that amount, from

Des Moines, Iowa. It was noted that a number of membership renewal letters were sent out and so far we had had about a 10% response. Total number of members in the Foundation is about 500. Membership starts at $25.00 and anyone donating less than $25.00 is considered a contributor.

Mal London of Vision Associates, New York, showed a 9 minute film produced by NBC on the early days of Lincoln in Kentucky and Indiana. Fifty prints of this NBC film were sent out to the network and the local NBC stations will be showing this film to promote the Hal Holbrook Lincoln series.

Jack Lusk, Vice President of Modern Talking Picture Service, Inc. gave the Foundation's new film the February cover of Cue-sheet, which is a promotion piece that goes to all TV stations. Donald Konny, of the Chicago office of Modern Talking Picture Service, announced that he is putting together a film series for TV and LRT will be a part of that series. There have been 300 TV stations that have already signed up to get that program.

S. A. Miller gave a progress report on the Travel Writer Tour. The following persons have signed up for the Tour:

Mr. David Carrington	Mrs. Erma Perry
Mr. Sando Bologna	Mr. Charles Yates
Mr. Bill Simar	Ms. Kay Savage
Mr. John Bowen	Ms. Nancy Kennedy
Mr. Harry Hoffman	Mr. Martin Hintz
Mr. Ben Carruthers

USPS is also sending foreign travel writers (2 from England and 2 from France). The bus for the Tour has once again been scheduled with Charlie Greenberg as the driver. There will be a meeting in Indianapolis at 2:00 P.M. on February 19, and each of the state's representatives will be there to plan the route along the Trail and the meals.

It was noted that Greyhound and AAA Hoosier Motor Club were interested in a package tour of the Trail. The possibility of having a special tour for tour operators was discussed since it is not good to mix Travel Agents with Travel Writers. It was determined that the budget will not permit two separate tours in one year, but the Foundation might consider missing a Travel Writers tour one year and scheduling a Travel Agents tour instead.

The Travelaide commitment is $1,440 for participation in Travelaide this year; one issue has gone to the press. We did not have the $4,500 needed to go into the full promotion, but the Foundation does have a listing. Our obligation is $120 a month through Calendar Year 1975, for the Travelaide commitment.

Delivery will be in about three weeks from the time ordered for prints of "Lincoln: His Land and His People" are received. The Foundation will order prints as soon as the number needed is determined. The cost on the basis of 51 to 100 prints is $108 each. This includes can, reel, case and shipping cost. Deadline set for ordering of the film is February 24, and the order will go to the supplier on that date.

No other old business came before the Board.

Under new business; Les Sheridan made a motion for the Foundation's sanction of an official promotion of a Railsplitters contest in each Trail state. The motion was seconded by Lacey Brooks. Motion carried. It was noted that the Railsplitters contests will be held in conjunction with other festivals.

Motion was made by Harry Truitt that the February, 1976, Board meeting be held in Hodgenville, Kentucky. Motion seconded by Linda Jester. Passed. June meeting to be held in Indianapolis, Indiana, Tuesday, June 10, and the annual meeting is to be held in Illinois, in October.

New Board members Kent Melcher, Arcola, Illinois; Pat Wheeler, Petersburg, Illinois; Walt Brantley, Springfield, Illinois; and Oliver Orme from Corydon, Indiana, were introduced.

Mike Linderman commented that he was very impressed with the film. He offered a motion of congratulations for the film to Dick Newman; seconded by Linda Jester. Motion carried.

Upon a motion, seconded and passed, the meeting adjourned at 4:10 p.m.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

LINCOLN: HIS LAND AND HIS PEOPLE

A film, "Lincoln: His Land and His People", depicting activities and historic points of interest along the Lincoln Heritage Trail in Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois was premiered at a luncheon, February 10, in Springfield, Illinois.

Congressman Paul Findley, Illinois, the featured luncheon speaker, announced that the Lincoln Heritage Trail Foundation had received a $20,000 matching grant from the United States Travel Service, U. S. Department of Commerce, to convert the film's soundtrack into French and Spanish for use abroad. The film was developed through public and private funds from the Trail states.

"Lincoln: His Land and His People" is narrated by those who live today in the shadow of history along the Lincoln Heritage Trail. Not a typical travelogue, the film tells the story of the area as it is today...its rich farmland, rolling hills, the fun of its festivals and the solemnity of its reverence for Abraham Lincoln, the man who came to be known throughout the world as the Great Emancipator. Produced by Vision Associates, New York, under the auspices of the Lincoln Heritage Trail Foundation, the film will be distributed as a public service program to both network and educational television stations during the coming years. Future plans for the 21 minute film include editing to a 35mm version for theatre distribution. Copies of the 16mm film will be available on loan from the Foundation for classroom and organization showings.

The Lincoln Heritage Trail Foundation is a not-for-profit organization established in 1965 by the Governors of Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois. The Foundation is charged with the responsibility of encouraging travelers to visit the many historic, scenic and recreational attractions along the 2,200 mile circular route that follows Lincoln's footsteps from his birth through early manhood. The activity generated by Trail travel not only keeps interest in Lincoln history vital and alive, but contributes substantially to the economy of the three-state area through tourism revenue. Mr. Joseph C. Lackey, Sr., Vincennes, Indiana, serves as the Foundation's President. Membership is open to all persons and businesses interested in preserving Lincoln history and encouraging tourism in the area.

Any organization interested in showing the film may schedule it by contacting the Lincoln Heritage Trail Foundation, 702 Bloomington Road, Champaign, IL 61820.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF
NEWS

WASHINGTON, D.C. 20230

FOR RELEASE: FEBRUARY 10, 1975

USTS AWARDS $20,000
GRANT FOR LINCOLN
HERITAGE FILM

The Lincoln Heritage Trail Foundation Inc., a non-profit organization which promotes tourism to Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky, has been awarded a $20,000 matching grant by the United States Travel Service (USTS) for production of a "VISIT USA" tourism film with sound tracks in English, French and Spanish.

C. Langhorne Washburn, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Tourism, announced the grant in Washington today. USTS is the official tourism office of the United States and an agency of the U.S. Department of Commerce.

Located in Champaign, Illinois, the Lincoln Heritage Trail Foundation will distribute the film to television stations and to travel agents and wholesalers for use in increasing Canadian and Mexican tourism to Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky. A 35 mm version of the film also will be produced for theater distribution in Canada and Mexico.

Recreational activities such as fishing, camping and boating will be depicted in the film along with historic and scenic areas of the Lincoln country.

The balance of the estimated $60,000 total cost of the program will be shared by the states of Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky.

Richard J. Newman, Executive Vice President of the Lincoln Heritage Trail Foundation, will serve as administrator of the program.

LINCOLN HERITAGE TRAIL FOUNDATION
Board of Directors Meeting
June 25, 1975

In the absence of President Joseph C. Lackey, Sr. and Vice President Laurence Buckmaster, the Board of Directors meeting was called to order at 9:45 a.m., Wednesday, June 25, 1975, at Stouffer's Louisville Inn, Louisville, KY, by Secretary Mary Brooks Howard. Board members present were:

Kentucky

Mary Brooks Howard
Russell Anderson
Bob Whitaker
Bill Samuels, Jr.
Bert Ballard

Indiana

Olivia Orme
Mark Neely
Fred Conway
Edgar Braun

Illinois

Joe Kemp
Walt Beantley
Sandy Guettler
Les Sheridan

Others present:

Irene Thompson, Elizabethtown Chamber of Commerce (KY)
Bill Knight, Travel Director (KY)
Paul Beaver, Lincoln College, Lincoln (IL)
Marguarite Braun, Santa Claus (IN)
Ruth Kemp, Marshall (IL)
Dick Newman, Staff, Champaign (IL)
S. A. Miller, Staff, Champaign (IL)

The minutes of the February 10, 1975, board meeting were approved as distributed on a motion by Joe Kemp and a second by Les Sheridan.

The Treasurer's report was presented by Dick Newman in the absence of Treasurer Harry Truitt. It was moved by Bud Braun and seconded by Les Sheridan that the Treasurer's Report be approved as read. Motion passed unanimously.

The Staff Report was presented by Dick Newman and S. A. Miller. A discussion regarding the publication of a "Guide" for the Trail supported by advertising followed.

It was pointed out that the newspaper supplement printed by Landmark Community Newspapers brought no revenue to the Foundation and, in some cases, probably caused a lack of financial participation since advertisers believed they were supporting the Foundation through advertising in this publication.

The staff was directed to investigate publishers who might be interested in publishing a guide for the Trail.

The problem of declining membership was brought to the attention of the Board. Mary Brooks Howard was named to head up an effort to increase membership in the Foundation working with a person to be designated from each of the states of Indiana and Illinois.

Following discussion regarding the advisability of organizing a Lincoln Heritage Trail group in each of the Trail states to increase involvement in Foundation projects, it was moved by Les Sheridan that State-based organizations be developed for promotion purposes to increase membership from each of the Trail states. The motion was seconded by Russell Anderson. Passed with no dissenting votes.

The question of the development of a Package Tour of the Trail for 1976 was brought before the Board by Dick Newman. Walt Brantley offered a number of suggestions as to the marketing of such a package. Newman pointed out that the Indiana portion had been pretty well developed. Russell Anderson indicated that he would work on the Kentucky portion and it was agreed that someone in Illinois would follow through on the Illinois leg of the tour. When the initial information on willing participants is gathered, the Foundation staff will follow through with tour brokers and wholesalers regarding the marketing of the package.

The motion was made by Les Sheridan to proceed with the Package Tour project. Seconded by Russell Anderson. Motion carried with no dissenting votes.

The need to reprint the Lincoln Heritage Trail Foundation brochure came before the Board. Following lengthy discussion about the purpose of the brochure, a motion was made by Les Sheridan that a revised brochure be printed when funds were available to do so. The motion was seconded by Russell Anderson. Carried with no dissenting votes.

Bill Knight expressed the appreciation of the Foundation to Russell Anderson and Bert Ballard for the pre-meeting activities that included hospitality and dinner at La Taberna Restaurant, tickets for The Stephen Foster Story Outdoor Musical Drama, sightseeing in Bardstown and the accommodations and breakfast at Stouffer's Louisville Inn.

Meeting adjourned at 12:15 p.m. The film, "Lincoln: His Land and His People" was shown for members of the Board immediately following.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS MEETING

February 6, 1976

Holiday Inn North, Elizabethtown, Kentucky

The Lincoln Heritage Trail Foundation Board of Directors Meeting was called to order, in the absence of President George C. Binkmaster, by Vice President Mary Brockie Howard, at 9:30 a.m. Friday, February 6, 1976, at Holiday Inn North, Elizabethtown, Kentucky.

Those present were: Kentucky: W.T. Sandels
H.D. Howard
Russell Anderson
Don Stevartz
Bett Ballard
Ed Bassett
Nick Durhan
W.T. Knight
Loretta Glavin
Fred Gandy
Elizabethtown: Harry Truitt
Walt Brantley
Lee Sheridan
Sandy Guckel
State: R.J. Newman
G.A. Mallie
President of the Foundation: Paul Barnes

Russell Anderson moved that the reading of the minutes of the Annual Meeting be dispensed with and that they be approved as distributed. The motion was seconded by Lee Sheridan and carried unanimously.

Harry Truitt, Treasurer, presented the financial report, copies of which were distributed. It was moved by Lee Sheridan, seconded by Walt Brantley, that the treasurer's report be accepted. A question regarding the special contribution of $1,000.00 to the Lincoln Trail Disbursement was answered by Paul Barnes who explained that the money was from Indiana and was designated specifically as a contribution toward Indiana's share of the cost of the book "Lincoln: His Land and His People". The motion was approved unanimously.

The President Howard called on Dick Newman to report on his recent trip (copy included in meeting minutes) to the Lincoln Bicentennial to report on the Lincoln Cook Book plans concerning the trail this summer. Newman said the book will be completed and it looked like there would be a lot of interest in it. He also reported a portion of the Trail in conjunction with the bicentennial celebration. Newman reported that Paul Barnes, his son, who was unable to attend the meeting due to his work on the trail, had notified him that his company has planned a series of lectures/drama dates this summer for towns along the trail.

Since the Foundation's supply of brochures was limited to 10,000, National agreed that the Executive Committee had requested that the present brochure be reprinted in a quantity of 10,000 so they would be available for distribution at travel shows by the individual travel agents. The reprint was completed in time for a week and the brochures shipped in quantities of 10,000 to each of the travel states of Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois. The balance are in inventory at the Foundation office and will be used in response to bulk requests and individual inquiries until a new brochure is authorized.

S.A. Miller reported on the status of the 1976 Travel Agent tour. To date, acceptances have been received from many from, Chicago; Doris Schanzenbach, Michigan; Dale Livingston, New York; and two writers from Mexico. The bus has been reserved at a cost of $1,720 and the services of Charles Greenbury have been arranged for.

Sandy Gustafson suggested that the Press Kit contain descriptive material on such areas of interest along the Trail as museums, antiques, bikeways, etc. He stated that his office would be responsible for supplying such information on Illinois.

Paul Reckles, Profile Publications, explained the company's two-phase program on behalf of the Foundation consisting of an 80 page Guide Book to be published in a quantity of 30,000 and a companion brochure to be printed in a quantity of 300,000. Reckles explained that his firm needed support from members of the Board if the project were to be continued since sales were going very slowly and at least $40,000 in advertising revenue was required to support the program.

He had been soliciting advertisements since November, 1975, starting in Illinois and then moving on to Kentucky. To date, there is approximately $10,000 in signed contracts. Reckles stated that he needed a reading on the Foundation's financials about the program for his firm's management who felt that the expense of keeping him on the road was too great for the number of sales generated.

Various members of the Board offered opinions on why sales were slow. The consensus was that it was a point wise to start advertising in anything since marketing funds were limited and many tourist oriented businesses were in their slowest season or closed completely. Bill Smeal suggested that the ads be sold, not as a means of generating direct sales for individual companies, but on a community development basis.

After much discussion, a resolution by the Board was passed, proposed by Lee Sherrill and the Profile Publications be asked to read the program to the travel agent only, in which time it would be more likely that advertising to support the program could be generated, due to the availability of marketing states funds and following a profitable season for potential advertisers.

Walt Brantley pointed out that the Foundation must recognize that we are in an inflationary period and the cost of producing the publication and brochures might not stay the same and that the Foundation needed the material this summer. Fred Conway stated that budgets were committed, using an example, the Standard Oil map promotion which had been sold just prior to the solicitation for the Trail publication. It was also pointed out that prospective advertisers had also been contacted by the Lincoln Heritage Trail newspaper supplement people. Following further discussion, Vice President Howard called for the question. The motion to ask Profile Publications to hold the program at "status quo" and continue their efforts after July 1, 1976, passed unanimously.

Under new business, Vice President Howard asked that members of the Board address themselves to the question of investigating a professional fund-raising company to provide new memberships for the Foundation. Sandy Guettler stated that it might be possible to find someone in each area along the Trail to undertake membership solicitation responsibilities for a percentage of dollars generated. Russell Anderson said that he knew of someone who might handle Kentucky. Following discussion, it was moved by Sandy Guettler, seconded by Russell Anderson, that a local person be contacted to handle membership solicitations with the Foundation authorized to pay up to 50% of funds collected from which he would pay his own expenses. An amendment was offered by Nicky Durham stating that each state would be responsible for obtaining the person to do its membership solicitation and that each state have a Membership Chairman who could contract with him. The motion, as amended, passed unanimously.

The Board authorized the Foundation staff to write a letter to Bill Matthews reiterating that the Foundation was not to be represented as being affiliated with his Newspaper supplement and asking him to cease using the Foundation's name in his selling approach.

In a discussion regarding the renewal of the Foundation's Travelaide contract, it was learned that members who had advertised in Travelaide to support the Foundation's listing had been disappointed in ad placement and publication distribution. It was moved by Nick Durham, seconded by Walt Brantley that the Travelaide contract not be renewed. Passed unanimously.

A resolution commending J. Robert Smith, Carmi, Illinois, for his continuing support of tourism and his active role in the establishment of the Lincoln Heritage Trail Foundation was approved unanimously by Foundation Directors. The resolution will be sent to Carmi, Illinois, to be presented at a ceremony, sponsored by the Carmi Rotary Club in tribute to Mr. Smith. Mr. Smith is to receive Carmi Rotary's Lincoln Heritage Trail award.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS MEETING
Thursday, July 15, 1976
Airport Hilton Inn, Indianapolis, Indiana

The Lincoln Heritage Trail Foundation Board of Directors Meeting was called to order by President Laurence C. Buckmaster at 12 noon, Thursday, July 15, 1976, at the Airport Hilton Inn, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Those present: Kentucky:	Bert Ballard Richard Carlin Mary Brooks Howard W. T. Knight William Samuels
Indiana:	James Clayton Sheri Dunnington Loretta Glenn
Illinois:	Laurence Buckmaster Marti Sladek representing Sandy Guettler Harry Truitt
Staff:	R. J. Newman S. A. Miller
Friends of the Foundation:	Henry Tonegan, Profile Publications Mrs. Harry Truitt Mary Truitt

Mary Brooks Howard moved that the reading of the minutes of the Board of Directors meeting, February, 6, 1976, be dispensed with and that they be approved as distributed. The motion was seconded by Harry Truitt. Passed unanimously.

Harry Truitt, Treasurer, presented the treasurer's report, copies of which were distributed. It was moved by Bert Ballard and seconded by Linda Jester that the report be approved. Passed unanimously.

President Buckmaster called on Dick Newman for a report on items of old business. Newman reported that the Broadcast network of 302 radio stations and 48 TV stations were actively participating in the LHT broadcast network using the Foundation's public service announcements free in public service time slots.

Newman then introduced Henry Tonegan, President, Profile Publications, for a report on the Guidebook and Brochure project approved at the Annual Meeting, October, 1975. Mr. Tonegan stated that it was the first time his company had ever undertaken a project they were unable to complete and expressed his deep regrets that this was the case. He said after much "agonizing" in the office, they had come to the conclusion that the LHT Guidebook and brochure project simply was not feasible at this time. Profile Publications understood that it would be totally liable for expenses incurred and that they had made a greater expenditure of time, effort and actual monetary expenses ($15,000 in the publication of the promotional piece, travel, salaries) than ever before and they accepted full responsibility for the outlay. He praised the cooperation of the Foundation and offered his thoughts on why the project couldn't get off the ground.

Explaining that in Springfield where the sales effort started, Profile figured they should sell about $20,000 worth of advertising (actual sales were $10,000 to $12,000) and these sales would serve as a foundation for sales in the other Trail states. When they moved into Kentucky, where they tried a number of sales approaches, they could generate but $2,000 to $3,000 over a two-month concentrated effort.

He reminded those present that the Board agreed to call a halt to the effort at the Board meeting in February and take a look at whether or not, in fact, there could be a successful conclusion to the effort.

Tonegan said the Guidebook could only be successfully concluded if those in the metropolitan areas were willing to advertise. The smaller communities seemed much readier to go into a Trail promotion than the larger cities did.

He also felt that the timing was poor since the economy was in a slump and sales calls were made in off season. Profile also had to spend some time selling the Foundation and explaining what the Foundation could do for businesses.

By the time last fall's sales effort was finished, $13,000 in contracts had been committed. For successful completion, another $50,000 would be needed. Since Profile had made the decision that it could take the project no further, they agreed to refund all deposits they had held in escrow.

Tonegan reported that they had had less than 1% return on their promotion piece, but they did hope that they had made more people aware of the Foundation and its activities. He urged that members of the Board not be discouraged in future efforts. There is a place for this kind of effort.

Tonegan said that the Foundation was welcome to use any of the material they now had and that they would be willing to supplement it with other material at their cost. He reaffirmed that Profile Publications would be happy to cooperate with the Foundation in anyway.

He also said that the information Paul Ackles collected from his efforts might serve as the basis for a survey to find out how the Foundation is perceived. The company would furnish the Foundation with their sales call list for this purpose.

Newman stated that while many, many people are familiar with the Trail, they don't know the Foundation. Sheri Dunnington said they would appreciate the information for their own state use. Marti Sladek asked about the feasibility of a Foundation membership study to see what the membership's understanding of the Foundation is.

President Buckmaster asked for a resolution of thanks to Profile Publications for their efforts on behalf of the Lincoln Heritage Trail Foundation. The resolution was moved by Marvy Truitt, seconded by Richard Clayton. Passed unanimously.

Newman reported that the Package Tours are off the ground for next year. Walt Brantley has several groups who will do portions of the Trail this year. His firm, Triangle Tours, specializes in charter groups. Hoosier Motor Coach Tours, Indiana, has two groups scheduled for Trail trips in September, and definately will have the Trail in their 1977 program. They are tentatively planning to participate with MA in Ohio and will propose an LHT tour to the 14 members of the Ohio group.

Roger Weiss, Vice President of Packaging, Ferlow Tours, is working on spring/summer program for '77 which hopefully will include Trail tours.

Newman met with V. K. Stevens, retired as President of Greyhound Tours, and his packaging man, Norm Becker, on a recent trip to Phoenix. They are three to four weeks away from developing their '77 spring programs, but are interested in Trail Tours originating from Chicago, St. Louis and Milwaukee. Mary Brooks Howard and Bert Ballard reported that they had already been contacted by Greyhound.

Newman told the Board that he had promised on-the-spot help and full cooperation from the Foundation to the travel firms.

S. A. Miller reported that during the first six months of 1976, the Foundation had received over $125,000 in publicity... mostly from the travel writers who had participated in the LHT annual tour during the past three years. She cautioned, however, that while the Foundation was riding high on the publicity crest, we might be using up our prime publication targets and that future tours might not generate the same volume of publicity.

Dick Carlin suggested that the Foundation contact USTS to see if funds might be available from them to run a Foreign Travel Writers Tour such as the one that took place in Kentucky this year which was paid for totally by USTS.

Bill Samuels moved that the Travel Writers Tour be continued. The motion was seconded by Harry Truitt with the addition that we study new angles for future years. Motion carried.

It was suggested that the Foundation might want to undertake a tour for travel agents. Bill Knight felt that a tour of this kind should more properly be aimed at brokers. Sheri Dunnington suggested that the Foundation investigate membership in the National Tour Brokers Assn. (NTBA). Dick Carlin suggested we mail an information kit to them and provide their members with the opportunity to package the Trail. He reaffirmed Ms. Dunnington's proposal to investigate membership in NTBA.

The Annual Meeting was discussed and scheduled for November 4 & 5, in Louisville, Kentucky. Dick Newman reported that Russell Anderson had expressed a willingness to hold it at Stouffer's. Linda Jester moved that the Annual Meeting be held at Stouffer's Louisville Inn on November 4 & 5. Richard Clayton seconded. Passed unanimously.

Dick Newman reported on the staff hours involved in day-to-day activities, the travel writers tour and the annual meeting. This year, the staff time required for Foundation activities exceeds the hours covered in the monthly fee.

Mary Brooks Howard, Membership Chairman, reviewed the membership project discussed at the February Board Meeting when it was decided that each state would appoint a Membership Chairman to work with an individual or firm specifically retained to sell Foundation memberships, receiving up to 50% of the 1st year's membership for their services. It was agreed that State Membership Chairmen would get together with Mrs. Howard and Foundation personnel to structure a program. This meeting is to be held as soon as possible.

Newman stated that the Foundation office would support the membership drives at the community level with newspaper publicity to announce fund-raising drive.

Under proposed programs for '77, Newman stated that a new brochure should be developed. There is a present supply of 12,000 brochures at the Foundation Office. A new layout and cost estimates for the new piece will be presented to an Executive Committee meeting or at next Board Meeting.

In answer to a query concerning Illinois matching funds participation, Marti Sladek reported that as of 7/1/76, applications are open for grants in Illinois. The total grant dollars available is $100,000 for FY '77.

It was determined that the Foundation would apply for matching Illinois grants for the '77 Travel Writers Tour, brochure production, converting the 22 mm film to 35 mm. for theatre distribution.

President Buckmaster stated that he and Dick Newman had discussed meeting with both Illinois gubernatorial candidates to explain the Foundation prior to the election and asked for the Board's approval of this meeting. Linda Jester moved that the Board sanction the meeting and also suggested a visit with Larry Conrad, Indiana's Democratic gubernatorial candidate. The motion was seconded by Bill Samuels. Passed unanimously.

President Buckmaster said that he had been contacted by 3-M National Advertising Co. asking for a resolution from the Foundation recommending that the state of Illinois go along with the Federal guidelines for the removal of highway signs. Bill Knight pointed out that state funds are involved in the Foundation and that it might be sticky for them to have the Foundation propose such a resolution. Bill Samuels pointed out that the amendment to the highway signing act of '74 was now in litigation and that the Foundation should make no move while this litigation was before the courts. It was determined that no resolution would be offered.

S. A. Miller asked that letters of thanks be sent individually to Joe Nash for the coverage he gave the Foundation in the VISTA supplements of THE NEWS in Mexico City. Mr. Nash used his vacation time to travel the Trail, was not subsidized by USTS, and did an outstanding job for the Trail in his publication, which is the only English language newspaper in Mexico City. His address is in the '76 Travel Writers Tour itinerary.

The meeting was adjourned at 2:30 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Linda Jester
Secretary

INDIANA'S LINCOLN HERITAGE TRAIL BECKONS TRAVELERS

Stand tall! When you travel the Lincoln Heritage Trail through Indiana, you're in Lincoln country! A trip along this medallion marked route offers a variety of recreational, as well as historical, vacation opportunities.

No longer wilderness country, Indiana is known 'round the world as the home of the famed "Indy 500". This speedway event is heralded by a month long festival of happenings in Indianapolis each May culminating with the race itself. But this is just part of today's Indiana. Indiana State parks provide every outdoor pleasure you can think of...swimming, hiking, camping, fishing, golf and picnics in the park. Her cities glitter with performing arts, museums, excellent restaurants and fine accommodations. You'll find the best she has to offer on your trip through Lincolnland.

In 1816, when Thomas Lincoln moved his young family to the area called Little Pidgeon Creek, now Spencer County, Indiana, they came to a wilderness. The undergrowth was so thick it took over a year, even with the help of neighbors, to clear two to three acres for farming. Life was hard for young Abraham. An epidemic of "milk sick" swept the countryside and his beloved mother, Nancy Hanks Lincoln, died along with countless other settlers. It was during the most formative years of his life that Abraham toiled here helping his father farm, splitting logs for the neighbors, going to school "by littles" when there was time. His stepmother, Sarah Bush Lincoln, glimpsed the greatness in the lanky, melancholy boy. She encouraged him to study and helped him find the time to read borrowed books in the evening by the light of a flickering fire.

Today, this period in Abraham Lincoln's life is recaptured at the Lincoln Boyhood National Memorial just outside Lincoln City. A trail through the park leads to the simple grave of Nancy Hanks Lincoln. Beyond, is a log cabin beside the site believed to be the original Lincoln cabin. Its yard is filled with those things important to the frontier family...a grindstone for sharpening tools; an ash hopper used to make lye; large kettles for rendering lard and the kinds of farm tools used to till the soil on the Lincoln farm. Nearby, is the Lincoln Living Historical Farm where crops are planted, tilled and harvested as they were over a century ago. Adjacent to the memorial grounds is Lincoln State Park with a lake for fishing, swimming and boating. Campsites, cabins and wooded hiking trails are also available.

Abraham Lincoln was still in his teens when he took a flat-boat from nearby Rockport to New Orleans. It was his first glimpse of the world awaiting him. Today, in the Lincoln Pioneer Village in Rockport, it's easy to recapture the spirit of a forgotten era in America's progress.

By the time the Lincolns decided to move on into Illinois, Abraham was a young man. An avid reader of the Western Sun published by Elihu Stout, he visited the newspaper office when his family passed through Vincennes. The newspaper office now stands within a stones throw of the Indiana Territorial Capitol. And you can see it all today in this historic Indiana city. While in Vincennes, don't miss visiting the George Rogers Clark Memorial established in honor of the frontier soldier who opened the Northwest Territory for America when he captured Fort Sackville from the British.

Each year, Brown County, Indiana, plays host to thousands of nature lovers. Brown County State Park is just a few miles from Nashville. Within its 15,428 acres of wooded hills and valleys lie 27 miles of scenic drive and many more miles of hiking and riding trails. The park features a fine swimming pool, a stable of saddle horses, picnic and camping grounds, a shelter house, wildlife exhibits and beautiful lakes jumping with fish. Lodge accommodations are available. Close by is the little town of Nashville, reknowned for its "Shoppers Lane" of fascinating curio shops and the Brown County summer theatre. Artists flock to this community to capture the beauty of the countryside with their oils and pastels.

Another of Indiana's scenic wonders are the Golden Raintrees that grow in abundance at New Harmony. German religious refugees called "Harmonists", more commonly known as Rappites, settled in the community in 1814. Two famous experiments in communal living in America flourished here...the first under Father Rapp, and then another under the leadership of Robert Owen, the great Scottish economist and philanthropist who bought the community from Rapp in 1825. Harmonist homes, dormitories, plus additional restored period buildings are open to guests and tours are available. Standing in sharp contrast is an ultra modern religious shrine, the Roofless Church, built in honor of New Harmony's settlers.

Near Bedford, Indiana, limestone quarries provide an awesome and interesting spectacle. And at Corydon, one can visit Indiana's first state capitol building and view the Constitution Elm where the Indiana Constitution was drawn in 1818.

Architecturally striking in lush countryside, the St. Meinrad Arch Abbey in the town of St. Meinrad dates back to 1854. Visitors are welcome to participate in community worship services and to tour the grounds.

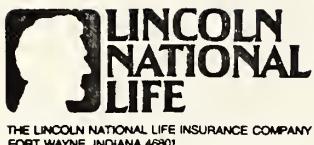

Squire Boone Valley and Caverns, near Corydon, will be open to visitors for the first time this summer. The new man-made entrance to the caves was blasted through 23 feet of solid rock. The mighty roar of The Old Mill Stream, coursing through subterranean passages, echos through the entrance, lending a mysterious atmosphere to the cave tour.

Another fascinating trip into the past is a visit to the Howard National Steamboat Museum in Jeffersonville. Enshrined here are the records and memories of three generations of famous boat builders and the Howard Ship Yards, once the largest inland ship-yard in the country.

➤ A trip along Indiana's alternate Lincoln Heritage Trail to Fort Wayne is a "must" for real Lincoln buffs. For here is the widely reknowned Lincoln National Life Foundation Museum and Library which houses a collection of Lincoln items, considered by many, to rank with that of the Library of Congress in Washington, D.C. Plan to spend several hours with Mr. Lincoln here.

SUBJECT:

The Gift Committee, represented by Drs. Barch and Neely, D. Houser, C. D. Silletto, M. L. Grawcock, M. J. Schlatter and M. A. Vachon, met on October 11 with Mr. Turk of the Fort Wayne Redevelopment Commission. He reviewed the Embassy's part in the downtown redevelopment plans. Mr. Turk stated that the Embassy's auditorium is necessary to the complex or another would have to be built at a cost of 10-12 million dollars. The Embassy's auditorium helps to market the whole, but it cannot be severed from the Indiana Hotel. He said we cannot afford to lose the Embassy from the planners point of view. The hotel may have some use as meeting rooms, restaurant, etc. Because it is on the Federal register, the Embassy may sometime get redevelopment funds but not within three years. A pedestrian bridge across Jefferson is an important concept to make the two work together, but the Embassy is not expected to fund that.

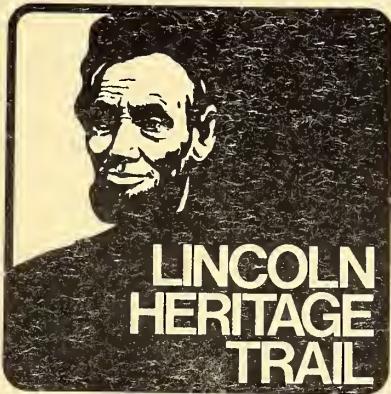

Following Mr. Turk, Mr. Goldstine and Ms. Weigel of the Embassy Foundation reviewed with us the progress made to date with the Embassy and the plans for additional renovation to be funded by a capital funds drive. They hope to get funds from businesses and industries who previously have not contributed, and that we as adjoining property holders might have benefits from its use. There is $100,000 mortgage on building. They do not feel housing for elderly is compatible for hotel but IU-PU or International College or storage for civic center would be. It was stated the hotel could be gutted and modules dropped in to make office spaces. Mr. Goldstine said that anything we can do will be appreciated.

It was the concensus of the Committee members that more information on renovation was needed. Mr. Silletto will arrange to get the restoration report routed. Dr. Barch thought storage probably might be the best idea for hotel space. Concern that excess funds could develop in the future when the complex is completed was expressed by Mrs. Schlatter. If that might occur, Miss Vachon suggested that an interest-free loan might be considered.

Dear Dr. & Mrs. Temple:

On behalf of the Board of Directors and the Membership of the Lincoln Heritage Trail Foundation, I thank you for serving on the Honorary Committee of our first annual Heritage Trail Antiques Show benefit. Without friends as you, we could not succeed.

As you know, our show is a national event that will include the nation's most prestigious exhibitors of authentic American antiques. They will be traveling to "Mr. Lincoln's Hometown" from every part of the United States to exhibit here. They bring with them precious pieces of Americana and a following of many serious as well as novice collectors from all over America, some of whom will be visiting the Trail for the first time as they follow this show to Springfield.

We also thank Show Director Frances Phipps (a Trail-state native) for bringing the show here from Connecticut, where, under her direction it has been an outstanding success for the benefit of the Antiquarian and Landmark Society for almost two decades.

We urge you not only to attend the show itself, but to enjoy all of the activities that are a part of it. A listing of those activities is enclosed herewith.

Gratefully,
Your Obedient Servant,

Along the Heritage Trail~

In a sense, each of the places where Abraham Lincoln lived was a part of the American frontier—from the one-room log houses his father built in Kentucky, Indiana and southeastern Illinois, to a room in a tavern in New Salem, to the new state capitol of Springfield, and eventually to what was still considered the “new federal city” of Washington.

He was the quintessential new American, the self-made man, the auto-didact whose quick native intelligence and ambition for a better life allowed him to move ahead—in just sixteen years—from his father’s log house in the Indiana wilderness to a handsome frame house in Springfield, the town he helped make into the state capitol. His changing lifestyle is reflected in the changing architecture seen as we travel the Lincoln Heritage Trail.

Along the way are the rough New Salem structures, the brick or frame buildings that were the courthouses of the Eighth Judicial Circuit, and the stagecoach stops. Each in its own way tells the story of quickly evolving frontier settlement, of civilization obdurately moving westward; of homes first furnished with the few cherished possessions carried west by new settlers who then made many of the other household furnishings they needed. It is the story, too, of the “second” homes furnished finally and finely with new pieces brought via the Great Lakes from Boston and New York, via inland waterways from Pennsylvania or “up river” from New Orleans.

~the Stage Coach Stop, Clayville

Moses Broadwell, a veteran of the Revolutionary War, settled at Clayville. There he built this tavern as a stage coach stop along the road from Springfield to Beardstown, where there was a courthouse and where regular sessions were held as part of the Eighth Judicial Circuit. (It was at the Beardstown courthouse that Abraham Lincoln successfully defended Duff Armstrong in what later came to be known as the "almanac murder trial.") The Broadwell tavern was constructed of brick formed of local clay and fired nearby.

In an area settled by emigrants from Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky, Clayville was named in honor of Henry Clay, who had been born in Virginia but who moved to Kentucky where he practiced law and whence he was sent to the U.S. Senate and later the House of Representatives; Clay served several terms as the first truly influential Speaker of the House. Leader of a group of "war hawks," Clay, a most eloquent orator, stirred popular enthusiasm for a second war against England: he perhaps did more than anyone else to precipitate the War of 1812. His program for the new nation, sometimes called the "American System," emphasized the building of roads and canals, insisted on high tariffs to discourage imports and thus to build up reliance on American industry. Hence the use of stars and eagles and the slogans referring to American industry often woven into the designs of coverlets, and embroidered on quilt squares.

Stagecoach stop, Clayville.

Little Pigeon Creek, Indiana

In 1816, plagued by failure and poverty, and having difficulty proving a clear title to their farm on Knob Creek in Kentucky, Thomas Lincoln, his wife and two children, moved north into the frontier Indiana wilderness, settling at Little Pigeon Creek near the area now known as Lincoln City. The one-room house was built of large logs, hand hewn with axe and adze, and with a log and stick side chimney. Both were caulked with clay or other mud, an American frontier adaptation of the ancient English "wattle and mud" construction method. Now, as the Lincoln Boyhood National Memorial, the house is a stop along the Lincoln Heritage Trail. Abraham Lincoln and his sister, Sarah, were brought up here, and attended local school sessions. It was here that Lincoln developed a passion for reading and a resultant desire to learn more of the world beyond the split rail boundaries of his father's farm. At 19, he made his first adventurous trip, poling a flatboat down the Mississippi to New Orleans, into that world.

As a nationally important political figure and candidate for the presidency, Abraham Lincoln denied that as a young man in New Salem he ever had "worked in a grocery"—a contemporary term for any store that sold liquor by the drink. He 'mis-spoke' himself.

January 4, 1833, a few weeks before his twenty-fourth birthday, Lincoln and his general store partner, William F. Berry, were issued a receipt for a license to "retail speritual (sic) liquors."

That original unique document, hand-written in ink on a soft-textured paper of the time, is on display at the Heritage Trail Antiques Show, part of a re-creation of the Berry & Lincoln Store and tavern. The re-creation features the kinds of general merchandise that would have been sold in the river town of New Salem in the 1830s. It is made possible through the generosity of Somerset Importers, Ltd.

~the Stage Coach Stop, Clayville

Moses Broadwell, a veteran of the Revolutionary War, settled at Clayville. There he built this tavern as a stage coach stop along the road from Springfield to Beardstown, where there was a courthouse and where regular sessions were held as part of the Eighth Judicial Circuit. (It was at the Beardstown courthouse that Abraham Lincoln successfully defended Duff Armstrong in what later came to be known as the "almanac murder trial.") The Broadwell tavern was constructed of brick formed of local clay and fired nearby.

In an area settled by emigrants from Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky, Clayville was named in honor of Henry Clay, who had been born in Virginia but who moved to Kentucky where he practiced law and whence he was sent to the U.S. Senate and later the House of Representatives; Clay served several terms as the first truly influential Speaker of the House. Leader of a group of "war hawks," Clay, a most eloquent orator, stirred popular enthusiasm for a second war against England: he perhaps did more than anyone else to precipitate the War of 1812. His program for the new nation, sometimes called the "American System," emphasized the building of roads and canals, insisted on high tariffs to discourage imports and thus to build up reliance on American industry. Hence the use of stars and eagles and the slogans referring to American industry often woven into the designs of coverlets, and embroidered on quilt squares.

the Old State Capitol

The Old State Capitol, on the square in downtown Springfield, Illinois, is situated between Fifth and Sixth streets and between Washington and Adams streets. An excellent—some have called it a perfect—example of the American Greek Revival style of architecture, the building was constructed from dolomite. The warm brown-colored stone lay in a thin vein about eight miles from the center of town. Original plans called for using dolomite for the foundation and brick for the upper part of the structure but local enthusiasm for the native stone won out. The cornerstone was laid July 4, 1837, and the first rooms were in use in 1839. The capitol quickly became the center not only of political life but also of social and cultural affairs. Concerts, balls, levees, and civic meetings were held here. It was at such a meeting that Lincoln made his "House Divided" speech June 18, 1858. In February, 1837, Springfield pledged $50,000 to construct the building on condition the site of the Capitol be moved from Vandalia to Springfield. Lincoln and eight colleagues succeeded in persuading other legislators to make the change. On June 22, 1837, local stonemason Jared Irwin wrote in his daybook that "I this day commenced laying the foundation of the State House at $2.50 per day."

The Senate chamber today has been restored and furnished to the way it appeared to legislators and visitors in the mid-19th century. Slant top writing desks of the prevailing Sheraton style hold candlesticks and camphene lamps, pewter inkwells and clay pipes. Newspapers and other periodicals of the period are displayed. The portrait of the Marquis de Lafayette was painted by Illinois artist James W. Berry in 1839.

the House in Springfield

Built in 1839 as a one-and-a-half story Greek Revival structure, the house in Springfield, Illinois, was added on to over the years by Abraham Lincoln as his family and fortune grew. The Lincolns lived here until 1860. During this period Mr. Lincoln successfully developed his career as an attorney, State Representative and U.S. Congressman to become a national figure and successful presidential candidate. The home, restored and authentically furnished, is one of the historic structures along the Lincoln Heritage Trail.

In 1850, the Lincolns began a long series of improvements to their property at Eighth and Jackson streets in Springfield. Cong. Lincoln wrote, June 11, to Nathaniel Hay, a local brick contractor, that "I wish to build a front fence on a brick foundation at my house . . . fifty feet long of proper width, and depth, under ground and about 2 feet above ground."

In 1856, to provide room for a growing family, room for household help and perhaps also for entertaining visiting dignitaries and political colleagues, the Lincoln home was enlarged. Not all the neighbors approved the expenditure. In a letter dated April 3 that year, Mrs. John T. Stuart wrote to her daughter that "Mr. Lincoln has commenced raising his back building two stories high. I think they will have room enough before they are done, particularly as Mary seldom uses what she has." The cost was $1,300.

The remodeling included loosening the roof at the front of the house and raising it nine feet. Thus the ceilings of the two front bedrooms were raised to a total

HINE COGNAC

When Thomas Hine established the firm that still bears his name, he began a tradition of excellence that has endured through six generations. Each successor to the founding father personally has overseen the aging and blending of the family's incomparable cognacs, distilled from the wine of the Cognac region of France; a wine so distinctive, that only its distillation has earned the designation "cognac". To this day, the dedicated descendants of Thomas Hine take personal samplings to ensure that the cognac bearing their name is worthy. Savor its unmatched, distinctive dryness and superb flavor ... in a snifter, on-the-rocks, or however you prefer. And serve it with pride ... the pride that stems from a tradition dating to 1763.

~the House in Springfield

height of 11 feet. The ceilings of the three rooms at the rear of the house were raised about one foot and an entire story of four rooms—that to which Mrs. Stuart alluded—was added above, thus completing a full two-story house with a small loft. Mary Todd Lincoln, who had sold inherited land for $1,200 shortly before, may have herself paid for the addition to the house. Or, she may have used some or all of her money to purchase new furnishings.

In January, 1861, following his election to the presidency, the Lincolns made plans for the move to Washington. The house furnishings were advertised for sale, including "the parlor and Chamber sets, Carpets, Sofas, Chairs, Wardrobes, Bureaus, Bedsteads, Stoves, etc." A Springfield druggist, Dr. Samuel Melvin, purchased some of the Lincoln pieces for a total of $82.25—six chairs, a spring mattress, a wardrobe, whatnot, stand, 9½ yards of stair carpeting, and four comforters.

The Lincolns purchased the Greek Revival house in 1844 from the Rev. Charles Dresser, the Episcopal priest who had performed their marriage ceremony two years earlier. They paid $1,200 in cash and a lot worth $300. (During the first year of their marriage, the Lincolns had lived at a boarding house called the Globe Tavern; the second year they rented a small three-room cottage.)

In 1850, answering questions posed by an enumerator for the seventh national census, Lincoln identified the occupants of his household as Abraham Lincoln, 51, lawyer; Mary Todd Lincoln; son Robert Todd, seven; and Catherine Gordon, a hired girl who had been born in Ireland in 1832.

Ten years later, answers given the enumerator for the eighth census, listed members of the household as Abraham Lincoln, 51, lawyer; his wife, Mary; three sons, Robert Todd, William Wallace, and Thomas; M. Johnson, hired girl; and Phillip Dinkell, 14. Lincoln gave the value of his real estate as $5,000, and listed his personal estate as worth $12,000. The 14-year-old Phillip presumably had been hired to do household chores—carrying wood or coal to the stoves, pails of water; working in the garden. Not long afterward, as the Lincolns prepared to leave for Washington, they sold off their furniture and arranged to rent their home for the time they would be in Washington, Lincoln took out an insurance policy with the Hartford (Connecticut) Fire Insurance Company. He listed the value of the house at $3,000; the carriage house at $75; the woodhouse and privy at $125.

During the months between his nomination and election, and departure for Washington, journalists, politicians, old friends, backers and office seekers visited Mr. Lincoln at his home; many recorded their impressions of the house and the manner in which it was decorated and furnished.

Furnishing the Lincoln House

Thus in May, 1860, the Springfield Republican reported that one visitor thought the president-elect's "dwelling house is of the style and character suited to his position in life. It is a two story wooden house of more than ordinary good exterior . . . the furniture, without pretension to show, was neat, and in admirable keeping with what is understood to be his moderate pecuniary ability . . . whose experience has taught him to enjoy whatever of success belongs to him, rather in solid substance than in showy display."

A correspondent for the Utica (N.Y.) Morning Herald said, "I was met at the door by a servant who ushered me into the parlor . . . The house was neatly without being extravagantly furnished. You would have known instantly that she who presided over the modest household was a true type of the American Lady. There were flowers upon the table, there were pictures on the walls; The adornments were few, but chastely appropriate; everything was in its place . . . the thought that involuntarily blossomed . . . was 'What a pleasant home' . . ."

The New York Herald reporter said, "Mr. Lincoln lives in a plain brown house, a little off at one side of the city, which is without ornament on it or in its grounds around it. Everything bespeaks a becoming absence of affectation and love of show, and an almost becoming absence of taste and refinement. The internal appointments of his house are plain but tasteful, and clearly show the impress of Mrs. Lincoln's hand, who is really an amiable and accomplished lady."

A writer for Frank Leslie's Illustrated Weekly Newspaper (New York City), wrote that "the edifice is painted a pale chocolate color, and the window blinds are of deep green. The roof extends a little over the edges, like that of a Swiss cottage. The rooms are elegantly and comfortably furnished with strong, well-made furniture, made for use and not show. On the front is a black door plate, on which, in silvered Roman characters, is inscribed the magical name 'A. Lincoln.'"

IN 1833 THE BERRY-LINCOLN TAVERN IN CENTRAL ILLINOIS WAS ISSUED A LICENSE TO SELL "SPIRITUAL LIQUORS". LINCOLN AND BERRY SOLD A VARIETY OF GOODS TO ACCOMMODATE THE NEEDS AND COMFORTS OF THEIR FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS.
